

Interactive Talks featuring 3 Jewels® game play

This is a curated experience to help each attendee step away from their cell phone and their ordinary selves to tap into their creative self.

It can be used as an warm opener to your event, an interactive talk or as an evening activity.

It's a great way to help your attendees step into a place that feels new and exciting, yet creates presence and helps them experience connection in a warm, fun and supportive space.

Memorable. Interactive. Configurable

Something for your attendees, something for you.

THE WAY OF THE HONEYBEES: A FEMININE LEADERSHIP PATH

Honeybees achieve extraordinary things by working together. Discover a whole new process for decision making where each individual is essential and everyone serves the common good. There are powerful lessons to be learned from the bees about how to build trust, communicate and engage with each other. By connecting with greater joy, we create a deeper understanding to ourselves and our community. Rachael brings you this honey bee experience through an interactive talk that allows each participant to feel the warmth of the “hive” wisdom and reimagine the role and purpose of a leader.

AUTHENTIC, BOLD AND CREATIVE - OUR NEW ABC'S

How do we break through the boundaries that stop us from seeing the best path? Where do we find the inspiration to solve problems in new ways? Collaboration is considered the new tool but often it can be a curse and a blessing. When done right, each person finds their true voice and the whole is greater than any of the parts. This is why we urgently need new ABC's. It's not about endless meetings and video chats—and it's definitely not about compromise—but rather helping each other to reimagine and reinvent, so we can see things in radically new ways. Rachael helps you experiment with emergent storytelling and explore risk taking as you each take turns and make choices. Watch out! This kind of work can be highly liberating.

WHO STOLE MY PLAY—AND HOW DO I GET IT BACK?

No time for fun, relaxation & rejuvenation? Wonder what to do about feeling overwhelmed, exhausted and worn out?

Learn how to take your daily medicine of play.

Warning: the side effects are fabulous.

Play is not just for the kids or something frivolous for our spare time. Neuroscience tells us that nothing lights up the brain like play. It's the key to creative thinking and innovation. The opposite of play is not work, it's depression. Experience the healing qualities of play in this interactive talk and learn how bringing it into your life can deepen connections, build trust and help you feel renewed. Yes, laughter really is the best medicine.

A brilliant storyteller, Rachael Flug guides her audience on a fun and inspiring journey — one where they get to experience innovative ways to collaborate and change, while redefining what “winning” looks like. Through the use of her signature game of discovery and adventure, 3 Jewels, Rachael passionately energizes and empowers women, bringing them together and building meaningful bonds. Having created two successful businesses and served on many nonprofit boards, Rachael embodies the spirit and wisdom of the woman entrepreneur. She inspires others to embrace the three jewels — past, present and future — igniting and nurturing their creative fire.

“The room was humming with energy as our attendees were playing 3 Jewels. Nobody wanted to stop when time was up! Thank you for your wizardry in creating such an amazing fun tool for self-exploration and connection. What a wow!”

AIMEE LYNDON-ADAMS & KAREN HALSETH, CO FOUNDERS OF DEVELOPING ALLIANCES & WHAT TRULY MATTERS

“This game allows women to enter a space of empowerment, community, vulnerability and reflection. It felt like an honor to play. This is not just a game, but rather an opportunity to create lasting relationships, learn, grow and share experiences. 3 Jewels is what life is meant to be — experienced in the moment with fellow women. Thank you so much! “
